FINANCIAL. The banks had little doing yesterday outide the usual checking and depositing, in which there was a fair degree of activity. There has been a rather better call for discounts on the whole this week, but the little sale there is for money is the chief feature of the day, and one not at all conducive to the profits of the banks. There is abundance of money, the problem is how to get a fair amount of it into circulation. Money that is lying unused in the bank vaults is oing no more to further trade than would dry goods upon the store shelf. Exchange quoted: Sight on New York and demand on ew England 35 off right on New England 3 off, seiling at par; on New Orleans 14 dis-count buying, selling at par.
